

A group of eight people, four men and four women, are standing in a line against a white background. They are all holding a large white sheet that covers their bodies from the chest down. The sheet has large, bold, orange text on it. The people are looking towards the camera with various expressions, some smiling and some looking serious.

Camere da letto

(BEDROOM FARCE)

di Alan Ayckbourn